State & Tribal Response Program

- EPA provides funds to States and Tribes to develop and/or enhance their response program which includes supporting efforts to build capacity for Voluntary Cleanup Programs (VCP), develop a brownfields inventory and public record, and conduct site assessments. EPA has awarded $8.75 Million in STRP grants to the State of Alaska and Alaskan Tribes since 2003.

Targeted Brownfields Assessments

- EPA has performed over 13 Targeted Brownfields Assessments (TBA) on properties in the state of Alaska. A TBA is an EPA study that determines what type(s) of contamination exists at a site or is not present at a site. A completed TBA can reduce uncertainty about site contamination.
